I don't go camping because the weather isn't good

The weather isn't good so I don't go camping.

It's a nice hotel but it isn't better because the rooms are not child friendly.

They don't have a branch in Brighton so it isn't a big success.

I don't have a lot of money so I can't/don't stay in a top hotel (but I prefer to buy other things)
(and I am not angry)

I don't complain because something like that doesn't happen to me.

IF + past , (~~saw~~ save) would + root of verb

We don't earn enough money so we cannot stay in nice places
